TWENTY-THIRD SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

2022

Fill us at daybreak with your kindness, that we may shout for joy and gladness all our days.

Psalms 90:14

“Whoever does not carry his own cross and come after me cannot be my disciple.”

In this week's gospel, Jesus continues to lay out the reality of what it means to follow him. When a disciple makes the decision to give up the pursuits of this world to center life and love on Christ, that can be very scary, especially for family members who have expectations and assumptions based on their own experiences. Jesus uses metaphors of an architect making calculations and a king planning for a battle. In each of these situations, Jesus makes the point that massive projects take intentional foresight. If we are to align our lives with the work of Christ, we have to take stock of what it will affect in our life and, to what end, who might be hurt by our decision. Just because someone chooses to follow the gospel doesn't mean that everyone will understand it. Other Christians may not understand it. In that same vein, we have to be aware of how following Christ will alter our own desires and comfort. Jesus doesn't want us to bite off more than we can chew, or expect too much of ourselves without proper preparation.

The book of Wisdom gets to the heart of the matter outlined in the gospel: “For the deliberation of mortals are timid, and unsure of our plans.” Wisdom is telling us the same thing that Jesus does: it will be difficult to follow God, not just because of the action one makes when one is orientated toward Christ, but because of the planning and foresight. Following the Lord isn't something that just happens. It takes intention.

Intentionally three elements are needed:

- To prefer intimacy with Jesus to all other intimacies.
- To accept the cross, not only that of the ordinary, painful suffering that is part of the human, but also of the persecution, ridicule, and conflict that may come with discipleship.
- To surrender possessions and possessiveness.

"The Lamb of God," "The Bread of Life," "The Body and the Blood of Christ"... these are phrases we know from the Mass. But do we understand what they mean in the greater and deeper context of Scripture and Church teaching? We'll discover firsthand how Christ's Body and Blood are an integral and wondrous part of God's plan for our salvation.

School News

Congratulations to Betty Jodzio, Principal, for earning a Certificate in Catholic School Management from The Villanova University Center For Church Management and The Villanova School of Business.

It was a good first week back to school! On Monday students met at the playground for a back to school prayer service, Pledge of Allegiance and a blessing. The rest of the week was all about learning routines and meeting new friends.

The playground is a sensation! Thank you to all who donated time, talent and treasures to make this a success.
