

5TH SUNDAY OF LENT

Jesus told her, "I am the resurrection and the life; whoever believes in me, even if he dies, will live."
- Jn 11:2

Excerpts from the Lectionary for Mass ©2001, 1998, 1970 CCD.

©LPI

The raising of Lazarus surfaces difficult questions about life and death. In their grief, Martha and Mary speak bluntly to Jesus: "Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died." They know Jesus to be the Son of God. They know his track record of healing the sick. Martha and Mary are dear friends of Jesus. How could he not save their beloved Lazarus? The sisters cry out, and Jesus weeps with them. Moved with compassion, Jesus commands the dead man Lazarus to come out of the cave - and behold, he does.

Some of us may hear this story and rejoice. Lazarus receives a second chance at life! Others of us may feel jealous of Mary and Martha for the extra time they got with their brother. Such a miraculous event begs big questions. Why does Jesus not raise all our loved ones to new life on this earth immediately after their deaths? Why does suffering exist if our Lord is all-powerful? What might our resurrection look like? These questions have no easy answer, yet they point us to some of the most profound truths of the Christian faith.

Our God is utterly mysterious. God's timing is beyond all human comprehension. There is so much about God and God's ways that we cannot know yet. But we can choose to believe Christ's proclamation: "I am the resurrection and life...everyone who lives and believes in me will never die." We can grieve the earthly death of loved ones and be confident that they are now enjoying new life with Christ. We can choose to live each day with trust in Christ's abiding love for all of creation. Living Liturgy, P. 89

Saints Family Partner Projects

The idea behind Saints Families is that we get all the students together and intermingle the grade levels so that the students get to know one another as well as have opportunities to mentor and lead each other. The younger ones get excited to see their older Saints partners as they walk through the hallways or come together in other activities. It's also a great opportunity for any student to take on the position of a leader, guiding the other students in all areas of their growth. Community and relationship building helps grow our culture of learning and serving.

Our latest project: Lenten Stained-Glass canvas painting.
